"C" Battery Embarks Today on Board the Caroline amid Cheers of Spectators.

They are Joined by the Specials—All in High Feather—The Citizens Excited.

A visit was made to the temporary barracks of C Battery on Sunday morning by a representative of the TIMES. The men were busily engaged packing their kits and cleaning their arms, preparatory to a parade in marching order, which took place at 10:30 o'clock, a. m. The idea of a campaign amidst the wilds of British Columbia did not appear to strike terror to the hearts of the members of C Battery. Everything indicated bustle and excitement, and between the jokes indulged in, the men would strike up some popular song which would almost shake the shingles off the roof of their quarters. One soldier informed his comrades that he had fought the Apaches and always found that a brave had no use for and would never shoot a white man whose hair was cut short. The hair on the speaker's head had been cut very close on the previous night. Another announced that he purchased a pistol which cost $17.50. The tailor of the Battery made a verbal will leaving his goose and shears to Bandmaster Agius, and the reporter was informed that the men would be very much disappointed if they returned without firing a shot.

At 10:30 the bugle sounded "fall in." The men then proceeded to the grounds outside the hall and were placed in three squads for inspection. Each man carried a pack on his back containing a blanket and great coat, covered with oil cloth, with a canteen strapped outside. The inspecting officers were Colonel Holmes, D. A. G., Major Peters, Colonel Prior, Capt. Jones and Lieutenant Ogilvie. A number of the recruits were sent to the rear to fix their kits, and after a critical examination the force was dismissed. At roll call it was discovered that one of the men was absent and he was found shortly afterwards quietly snoozing in the ferns outside the barrack yard.

The equipment of the men was something unique in military affairs. Each man had his field kit which consists of "hold-all" complete, i.e., knife, fork and spoon, comb, &c., 1 shirt, 1 pair socks, 1 pair boots, cape, great coat, 1 blanket and sixty rounds of cartridge, the whole wrapped up neatly in a water-proof sheet bound by a piece of white cotton cord, while the ordinary barrack room bed-strap is made to do duty for shoulder straps. On the whole the get-up is something new. The question, however, is, will the unique arrangement meet all the requirements of rough service? How would the soldier be in case of alarm; or losing his piece of cotton cord in the wilderness? The absence of the usual accoutrements, pouch belts, &c., and the substitution of the bandolier for carrying the ammunition, forty rounds, gave the troops rather a rough but at the same time serviceable appearance. The canteen or mess tin is attached to the "pack" while the haversack is used for carrying odds and ends or the day's rations. The rifle is carried without the sword bayonet, and it may be therefore presumed that there will be no claim to a charge a-la Waterloo at the bayonet's point. Major Peters takes, as a matter of course, his field camera with him, and the world of photography will have new additions to its album, both under fire and otherwise, of the artistic production of the gallant Major. The expedition on arriving at the mouth of the Skeena will debark on board the Caroline's boats and will be towed by the steam launch up to the end of boat navigation. The latter part of the route is rough, merely an Indian trail, and it is expected that the troops will take four days to make the march. A depot of reserve and base of supply will be established at the head of navigation, where a part of the troop will remain to await the result of the advance. It is not intended to employ any of the marines or blue jackets from the Caroline, unless their services should be called into requisition. The troops will be supplied with navy revolvers and ammunition from the Caroline, in addition to their rifles. The gallant Major Peters and many of the officers and men have had bush campaign experiences in the west after Big Bear, which will be found of service in the present campaign, and will tend to carry the expedition to a successful issue.

During the whole of this morning all was bustle and confusion at the barracks preparing for the journey. The pack carried by each man consisted of a Snider rifle, sixty rounds of ammunition in his kit, and forty rounds in a belt around the body. The bayonet was not taken. Each officer carried a Colt's revolver and sword. Every non-commissioned officer and man had a haversack slung over his shoulder. At 10:15 the bugle again sounded for the parade, and a photograph was taken by Mr. Edgar Fleming. The men were then called to "attention," and inspected by His Honor Lieut.-Governor Nelson, accompanied by Colonel Holmes. The packs were taken off and placed in wagons for conveyance on board the Caroline. At 10.45 the Battery marched out of the gates, the band playing "The Girl I Left Behind Me." As the fine body of men marched through Government street the ladies waved adieus with their handkerchiefs, the band playing a lively martial air. Government street was crowded with people and the very unusual scene of a body of armed men marching along to uphold the supremacy of British law brought forth nearly the whole of the residents of the city.

During the morning Colonel Prior was busily engaged forwarding supplies to the war-ship. Provisions for a campaign of two months duration were sent on board.

At the Adelphia corner the special constables joined the Battery and proceeded with them to Esquimalt. Superintendent Roycraft will go to Essington on the steamer Barbara Boscowitz this evening.

AT ESQUIMALT.

Shortly before noon the Battery arrived at Foster's Pier, when the boats belonging to H. M. S. Caroline conveyed the men on board. A large number of ladies and gentlemen were present to bid the soldier boys good-bye. Amongst the assemblage were Hon. John Robson, Hon. F. G. Vernon, Colonel Wolfenden, Mrs. Prior, Mrs. Holmes, Rev. J. E. and Mrs. Starr, Lieut. P. Æ. Irving, Capt. Jones, and others. When the last boat left the wharf three cheers were given, and were responded to by the officers and men. Amongst the last to leave the wharf were Hon. J. H. Turner, Colonel Holmes, Major Peters, and Lieutenant Ogilvie. The warship will be absent about two weeks. On the voyage up the Caroline will anchor during the night, and will reach Esington on Friday. The number of officers and men in the Battery is eighty-five, and with the specials will bring the force up to about 100 men. The Battery will be taken to Kitalass Canyon and will await a report from Supt. Roycraft and his specials. The Superintendent will take his men up the river in canoes, and if resistance is offered will drop down the stream to the encampment. The military will advance on both sides of the stream, protecting the provisions which will be taken in canoes. At 1 o'clock the Caroline sailed out of Esquimalt with the band playing and cheering from the ship and the shore.

A Coming Treat.

In this age of unbelief a lecture such as announced in another column is of great importance to all Christians. Father Drummond lectured on this subject in Winnipeg and so pleased was the audience that he was requested to repeat the lecture in a larger hall, when the ministers of all denominations attended. Father Drummond is an eloquent and pleasing speaker who keeps his audience spell-bound during the whole course of the lecture. The subject is taken from a standpoint upon which all Christians agree; therefore all Christians, whatever denomination to which they belong, should go and hear a lucid vindication of their belief against the erroneous contentions of unbelievers. Tickets for the lecture may be had at Lombard's Music Store.

UNITED STATES NEWS.

MARRIED HIS DAUGHTER.

New York, July 14.—Isaac Waldorf, an ex-German officer, who married, and for ambition's sake left his wife and married again, came to New York, where he met his own daughter, whom he had never known. He took her from the street and won her love and hand. The first wife, coming here to attend her daughter in childbirth, discovered the truth and revealed all.

RUN DOWN BY A STEAMER.

YELLOW FEVER.

Surgeon-General Hamilton of the Marine Hospital Service, received a communication to-day from the surgeon in charge of the quarantine station at Ship Island, near New Orleans, stating that the Norwegian bark Magnola from Rio de Janiero has arrived with several cases of yellow fever on board. The vessel left Rio de Janiero with a clean bill of health, and during the passage the captain and four seamen were taken down with the scourge.

THE CHICAGO DYNAMITERS.

Chicago, July 16.—It was reported this morning that Chief Arthur telegraphed Engineer Perry, of the Illinois Central road, chief of the Chicago division, authorizing him to procure the best legal counsel in Chicago for Chairman Hoge, the alleged arch-dynamiter of the Dearborn station, also saying that, "fight in Hoge's interest would be to the bitter end, as the Chief felt certain he was innocent. A reporter found Engineer Perry, who said: "Yes, I am in communication with Chief Arthur. You may contradict that rumor, though," added Perry, cautiously. "I have received no such instructions." Then he said, "it is the impression of the brotherhood that Hoge is innocent. I cannot say as to whether he will be defended by the Brotherhood or not. We believe that in spite of detectives hired by the "Q" people that the Brotherhood and its officers will be acquitted of any guilty knowledge or complicity in dynamite conspiracy. The Brotherhood is as law-abiding as are any of the railroad officials. Reckless characters may be found hanging on to the organizations, but the great Brotherhood will come out of this fight with its moustache unsinged and no smell of fire on its ulster."

Chicago, July 16—The trial of "Q" dynamiters was resumed this morning in Judge Gresham's court. There was a large attendance. Alexander Smith was a witness for the Railroad company. His evidence went to implicate the prisoners in the plot and said he got a dynamite cartridge from Bowles for the purpose of putting on the "Q" track.

SHERIDAN'S CONDITION.

New Bedford, July 16—Gen. Sheridan was rather restless during the night, but slept fairly well, and this morning took milk and crackers. Pulse 98; respiration 28.

DROWNED.

Santa Cruze, Cal., July 16.—William Miller, farmer, aged 37, was drowned while bathing in the surf yesterday.

RAILWAY ACCIDENT.

Clarenden, Tex., July 16.—In consequence of a washout, the Fort Worth & Denver Railway's north-bound passenger train was last night precipitated through a bridge. Engineer William Smith and fireman James Wilson were instantly killed.

EDUCATIONAL CONVENTION.

San Francisco, July 16—Trains from all directions brought crowds of teachers this morning. Nearly two hundred arrived on the steamer Oregon from Portland. The fifth session of the national council of education was devoted this morning to the reading of reports of committees on elementary education and a discussion of the subject, "Waste in Education."

FREE WOOL ASSURED.

Washington, July 16—The House in committee of the whole resumed the debate on the tariff this morning. The free wool clause was discussed till 1 p m when, by a vote of yeas 93, nays 122, the House refused to strike wool from the free list.

The discussion of the woolen schedule continued, and after a slight change in the carpet and carpeting clauses, the woolen schedule was finished and January 1st, 1889, fixed as the date on which it should go into effect.

THE CHIEF JUSTICE.

Washington, July 16—Senator Frye says when the time arrives for it, Fuller's nomination as Chief Justice will be confirmed.

Turner to the Rescue.

Our whilom friend, the Hon. J. H Turner, whose advice to the Metlakahtlans is still remembered, has gone to the Skeena, presumably as a missionary or diplomat. It is understood that he has a plan of his own for settling the serious complications that have arisen through the apathy of the Government, and this "plan" is said to be quite as unique, and certainly quite as original, as that of Captain Bowdil, of sacred memory. The Minister, although not a Friend, is a believer in arbitration, and when that fails to the deportation of the malcontents to a foreign country. He has matured a scheme for the transportation of the entire tribe to the United States, for which country he has unfairly been charged with being a paid immigration agent. Colonel Holmes will permit Mr. Turner to try his hand on the rebellious Indians, and if he is successful nothing short of knighthood would be adequate remuneration for such a great service to the state.

The Specials.

A number of the special officers engaged by Supt. Roycraft on Saturday did not appear this morning when their names were called. The following is a correct list of the men who left on the Caroline: John Flewin, R. McNeil, jn, A. McNeill, Dr. D.L. Chalmers, T. Dougherty, G. Gibson, McArthur, T. Gadesbie, R. J. Smith, J. Dunlap, J. Beegan and D. Murray. Supt. Roycraft will leave this evening on the Barbara Boscowitz.

THE METIS AND DUMONT.

A More Complete Report of the Contents of the Recent Manifesto.

Montreal, July 10.—Gabriel Dumont has received from the half-breeds of the Northwest several letters in which he is recognized as the head of the people and urged to prevail upon the Federal authorities to grant the Metis their rights. One letter says: "We are prepared to aid you in your endeavors with all our hearts. We place at your disposal all we possess. We trust you will succeed for life here is becoming harder ever day, and we are anxious to know what is to be done for our unfortunate nation. The proclamation issued by the government sounds well, but we should not be made to bear alone the responsibility of the rebellion. We are, nevertheless, pleased to accept the amnesties which were granted, and we will be friendly towards the government of Canada provided our properties are given back to us. In the event of this not being done the country will be in the same position as before the rebellion, and the greater portion of our people will still be dissatisfied." Another letter says: "Yes sir; were we strong enough we would remember what has been done to us. Dear Dumont, you may rely upon the help of your people. We appoint you our chief. Defend our rights and we will all stand by you and give you the last drop of our blood."

The Silent Repear.

Mrs. Isabella Blechynden, a native of Berwick-on-Tweed, England, passed away at her residence, North Park street, last evening. The deceased arrived in the province about the 1st of April from Japan. She brought with her three children, the eldest eight years of age and the youngest four years, with the intention of educating them here. Her husband, who is an engineer in paper works in Kobe, was to join her in the spring and they were to make this their home. Death, however, has frustrated all these nicely arranged plans, and three little children are left without a solitary relative to care for them till their father can arrive from far off Japan. Deceased was 43 years of age, and is well spoken of by the few who formed her acquaintance. The funeral takes place from the house to-morrow at 2:30 p. m.

Edward Truran, senior convict guard at the provincial jail, died suddenly at the jail at 7:30 this morning while in the act of stooping down to remove his shoes. The deceased came to the province from Australia about the year '58, and has nearly ever since been in the employ in which he died. He was a native of Cornwall, England, and about 61 years of age. Deceased was a sober, industrious man, and was held in esteem by all who knew him. He leaves a widow and two sons and two daughters. The funeral will take place Wednesday afternoon, under the auspices of Victoria Lodge, No. 1, I. O. O. F.

An inquest was held this afternoon. Verdict, dead from natural causes.

William Bruce, a native of England, died at the Royal Hospital last night. Deceased arrived in this country about a year ago.

Two Victoria Industries.

The travelling agent of the Monetary Times tells that journal much that is of interest respecting the industries of Victoria. Some days ago, he says, he went "all over the Albion Iron Works of that city, with the manager, Mr. W. F. Bullen—who, by the way, is a son of the manager of the Ontario Loan and Debenture Company, of London—and found an extensive foundry and numerous moulding shops, and in the machine shops some large marine engines, one of them a triple complex engine of 700 h. p. with surface condenser. In another department, the foundry, was making some 9 miles of piping and appliances for the city water works extension, this contract alone aggregating some $250,000. A brass foundry and fitting shop was found in another of the buildings, car wheels were made in another, boilers in yet another. Some 180 hands are constantly employed in this very complete establishment.

The next important manufactory visited was the Victoria Rice Mills, a branch of the Mount Royal Milling and Manufacturing Company of Montreal. This mill has a capacity for the preparing of rice of 15 tons a day. A good deal of this is put up for the Chinese trade of this district, not in sacks, for they won't buy it that way, but tied up in a peculiar manner employed by them exclusively, with bamboos or rattans, imported direct from China for that purpose. Each package weighs 50 pounds gross or 48 pounds net, and 40 mats go to make a ton, the usual term of measurement for this province."

West Coast Branch.

A Seattle paper says: Messrs. Thomas Earle and J. W. MacLeod have been awarded a contract for the construction of ten miles of road on the West Coast branch from Snohomish northward for the Seattle, North Shore & Eastern company, with a privilege of thirty miles more. A large force of men will be put to work at once clearing the right of way, and they will be followed closely by the graders. The firm of Thomas Earle & Co., who built the road to Snohomish, has dissolved and Messrs Earle and MacLeod, members of the old firm, have formed a partnership and expect to build forty miles more road this summer.

The Girl I Left.

Mr. Bagley of the Half-way House had a dummy outside his door waving a handkerchief as the Battery passed along the road. Beneath the effigy was a placard announcing that the well got up dummy was "the girl I left behind me."

The Wife Beater.

It is reported that the quiet neighborhood in the vicinity of Blanchard street was disturbed yesterday by the wife beater. The report says a husband was taking physical exercise by beating his wife.

A FEDERATION LEAGUE.

The Imperial Federation League of Victoria, which has been in a lethargic state for several years, has, we are glad to learn, decided to bring itself more prominently before the public, with a view to the propagation of its principles. At the present time, when so much is being written and spoken in favor of closer commercial relations with the United States, and when advocates of independence and annexation are multiplying in the land the discussion of the various schemes looking towards a closer federation of the mighty empire of which we are a part is most opportune. Thus far imperial federation—referred to as a "fad" by commercial union advocates—is a theoretical rather than a practical proposition, but by earnest discussion and a determination to solve the problem many of the obstacles now considered insuperable will doubtless disappear. The unification of the self-governing dependencies of the empire, and their final consolidation under one central government—the mightiest the world ever saw—may be only the dream of the visionary, but it is none the less a commendable and a patriotic object, the accomplishment of which would be, after all, only the natural and final completion of the immense structure which, with such vast expenditure of blood and treasure, has been built up to its present gigantic proportions. Our people are open to conviction on this and cognate subjects, and without pronouncing for or against federation or abandoning our policy of wider and freer commercial intercourse with the United States—which, by the way, should not necessarily be antagonistic to a closer and stronger tie between Britain and her children—the Times will assist in disseminating the views of the advocates of the Greater Britain, and assist them by every means in its power in arriving at an intelligent comprehension of the great questions involved.

THE SKEENA EXPEDITION.

The departure of C Battery on board H. M. S. Caroline this afternoon for the Forks of the Skeena is an incident of more than ordinary importance. The immediate circumstances which have rendered a display of force necessary, and possibly the chastisement of the turbulent tribes of the Skeena an imperative duty, are the unfortunate killing of an Indian murderer by a special constable, the subsequently reported murder of two white men in retaliation, and the disaffection which is known to exist among the Indians in the neighborhood of Hazelton. The first news of the shooting and subsequent uprising was received on the 11th instant, and although further vague rumors have reached the Government since that time, the urgency of the situation must have been manifest to the authorities when the special courier had reported five days ago. The delay that has occurred—most of it, no doubt, owing to red-tapeism—is inexcusable, and it will be a fortunate circumstance for those responsible for it if subsequent events should prove that no lives have been sacrificed in consequence of the indecision or indifference of those whose duty it is to preserve law and order within the bounds of the province. It will be within the recollection of our readers that former cabinet ministers were charged by the present Government organ with being directly responsible for the death of a white man who was killed by the northern Indians, and under circumstances that afforded no justification whatever for the vile accusation. The present trouble is one of the results of appointing inferior men to responsible positions where the highest degree of tact, skill and knowledge of the Indian character is required. The Constable who raised his rifle and killed Kit-ma-cool Jim, murderer though he was, committed a criminally foolish and indiscreet action. He precipitated a rebellion upon the country, which may cost many lives before it is ended. If he should ever escape the revenge of the savages and return to civilization he will have to be arrested and tried for his life. It is a question whether our principle of administering justice among the Indians has been the best that could be desired. The lenient manner in which Yeoman's murderer was dealt with gives a great deal of dissatisfaction among those who regard the vigorous methods adopted by governments as the best when dealing with the Indians. All lessons of this kind must be taught them in a severely practical manner and if Yeoman's murderer had been taken up and hung on the spot where he committed his crime, in the presence of his tribes, it would probably have saved much of the trouble that has arisen since then. We question very much the wisdom of sending C Battery to the Skeena, especially in the present turbulent state of the river. Men who are well acquainted with that part of the country say it is quite possible the expedition will not reach Hazelton in thirty days by taking this route. Again, if the Indians really mean fight, there are passes along the river where a dozen of the well armed might hold almost any force in check while they had ammunition. What would appear to be the most practicable route would be by way of Naas river and thence overland on foot through a comparative clear country. From the point of disembarkation they would probably have to march about 100 miles while the objective point by way of the Skeena River is well nigh double that distance from Essington to the head of navigation. We do not know who has charge of the arrangements on behalf of the Government, but whoever has appears to be committing an expensive error. In conclusion let us say that the willingness and enthusiasm with which "C" Battery has responded to the call to arms speaks well for their valor and patriotism, and it is to be hoped that before they return they will have taught the rebellious Indians a lession that will ensure peace and protection to traders and whites in general in the future. Above all, it is to be hoped the soldiers are led by men who have a knowledge of the Indians and are capable of treating with them in a firm but skilful manner.

THE DOUBTFUL STATES.

A San Francisco paper says it is safe to put Virginia in the column of doubtful states. WISE, MAHONE and RIDDLEBERGER have settled their quarrels for the campaign, and will work together for Republican success. This will make Virginia good fighting ground. The Democrats carried Virginia last year on the legislative ticket by a majority of only 426 in a total vote of near 240,000. In the largest vote ever cast, that in the election for Governor in 1885, they had a majority of 16,034 in a vote of 289,071. In a vote of 284,991 in 1884 the Democrats carried the state by 6,141.

Probably Michigan should be reckoned a doubtful state likewise. The Republican pluralities there have come down to a narrow margin, and the Prohibitionists are in such bad humor over the pettifogging decision of the Supreme Court overthrowing the local option law that they are likely to get a big vote. As the prohibitory amendment got 178,488 votes last year, a small defection would throw Michigan into the Democratic camp.

Indiana, on the other hand, may be removed from the doubtful column. The nomination of HARRISON by the Mugwumps of the Treasury Department, the treachery of Democracy over the slaughter of GRAY, make it tolerably sure for the Republicans.

The doubtful States may be reckoned as New York 36 votes, Michigan 13, Virginia 12, New Jersey 9, Connecticut 6—a total of 76. The Democrats have 141 certain. The Republicans have 184. The Republicans must win New York, or any other two States. The Democrats must have New York and three out of the other four doubtful States to win.

The Quebec Legislature prorogued on the 12th inst.

The C. P. Railroad has bought control of the Duluth, South Shore and Atlantic. This is feared by officials of the Northwestern lines to be another obstacle to the long and short haul clause of the inter-state law.

An English blue book has just been issued, which gives the number of vessels contained in the navies of the different maritime powers of Europe as follows:

Battle ships—England, 49; France, 30; Italy, 21; Germany, 13; Russia, 9.

Cruisers—England, 87; France, 67; Germany, 29; Russia, 25; Italy, 21.

Torpedo Vessels and Boats—England, 176; France, 140; Italy, 138; Russia, 97; Germany, 96.

According to the balance sheet just issued at Washington by the United States Government it appears that during the last fiscal year ending June 30th the national debt was reduced by $112,000,000, and still left a surplus for the same period of $97,000,000. Yet in the face of this enormous sum of $205,000,000 over-raised by taxation, the Republicans object to the reduction of any tax save that on whiskey. It is a case of Protectionism run mad.

Twenty years ago the value of fruit imported to Great Britain was given at about $15,000,000 from all points. Now it has increased to $37,000,000. Of the apples from North America, one-third reach British ports from Canada. Judging by the quantity shipped, the yellow Bellefleur must be immensely grown for American export, while the Baldwin also reaches Britain in immense numbers. The Newtown Pippin brings the highest price.

The ratepayers of Port Arthur on the 11th voted on a by-law granting a bonus of $2,572 to the C. P. R., being a rebate of half the taxes of 1885 and 1886. A majority of the voters polled in favor of the by-law, but the by-law was defeated owing to two-fifths of the property owners not turning out to vote. The by-law authorizing the adoption of the Edison electric light was defeated, and the by-law regarding the Public Park act carried.

It will be remembered that the Vatican gave a provisional understanding to His Eminence Cardinal Gibbons that the Knights of Labor should not be condemned. Thereupon, says a Roman dispatch, the Canadian bishops opposed to the organization requested that the matter be submitted to the Congregation of the Holy Office. This was done and that body has now considered the matter, its decision being a toerari posse, that is to say, it is permitted to Catholics to form a part of the association.

Mr. Rhodes, a Cape Colony deputy and supporter of imperial federation, recently wrote to Mr. Parnell, assuring him of a large additional colonial support to Irish home rule if the Irish members would retain representation at Westminster in their plan, thus furnishing a precedent for colonial representation. Mr. Parnell replied that if Mr. Gladstone provided for Irish representation at Westminster in the next home rule measure the Irish would cheerfully concur, valuing the position thus given them in the imperial system. This would facilitate imperial federation, which depends upon colonial opinion. Mr. Rhodes then wrote, offering £10,000 on his own behalf and £1,000 on behalf of Mr. Morrogh, an Irish resident at Kimberly, to the Irish party. Mr. Rhodes is visiting in London. He is the chief shareholder in the De Bars diamond mine.

A dispatch from Vienna states that in a new bill to be introduced in the autumn the strength of the Austrian army on a war footing will be fixed at 4 per cent. of the population, instead of 800,000 men, as now. As 4 per cent. of the population would be nearly 1,600,000, it would seem, at first sight, as if the army was to be doubled. But the dispatch is probably slightly mixed. At present the strength of the regular army, on a war footing, is placed at 778,889, and of the total available force, including the landwehr and landsturm, at 1,533,297. The latter figure would be almost exactly 4 per cent. of the population, and the new law probably aims to keep it nearly as it is. The increase of 10,000 in the annual number of recruits would not make much difference in the total. Still it is a movement in the wrong direction, and adds another item to the account that will have to be settled before long. Armies cannot go on increasing forever without proving that they are good for something.

The shocking disclosures made before the Poor Law Board of the City of Edinburgh do not go to prove that repressive liquor laws improve the morals of the people. The Scotch law, as we all know, prohibits the sale of liquor on Sunday. The result is that on that day the poor people go to the druggist for their drink instead of to the publican. But the intoxicating substances sold in druggists' shops are too dear for a poor man to buy—with one exception, i.e., methylated spirits. The poor accordingly began to buy and consume this most nauseous and fatal of alcoholic poisons, and gradually a queer kind of artificial appetite was created for it. Among certain classes in Edinburgh methylated spirits is now the favorite beverage on week days as well as Sundays, and is preferred even to the choicest and oldest brands of such historic mountain stills as "Long John" or Glenlivet. The result is that in Edinburgh drunkenness assumes a terribly hard form. The Drunkard of the gutter is either a comatose animal or a raving and furious maniac utterly beyond control. We have long been aware that Sunday closing in Scotland had led to the use of cheap alcoholic poisons. But we always believed that it did so only in individual cases, and that these were so few that the great benefit which the Forbes Mackenzie Act conferred on the community at large was more than a fair offset to its evils. But the disclosure relating to the growth of methylated spirit drinking is Scotland necessarily tend to modify that opinion very seriously.

CANADIAN NEWS.

Snow has fallen in the suburbs of London. This is the first time snow has ever fallen in that country in July.

Mrs. H. Payette, an old lady of 75, a passenger by the western train from Detroit, in her sleep got up and walked off the platform and was terribly mangled by the cars. She died from her injuries.

The 12th was celebrated in Toronto as never before. The enthusiasm was altogether greater than it ever has been. The streets were lined with people who watched the procession which was composed of not less than 55 lodges or 10,000 persons in all, and it took an hour to pass a given point. The city was filled with visitors and all business was suspended. Addresses were delivered on the exhibition grounds by Mayor Clark, H. E. Clark, M. P. P., Goldwin Smith, Rev. Dr. Wild, Galbraith, Sibbald and others.

A terrible accident occurred near Grassy Lake, N. W. T., about 9 o'clock a. m. on the 11th. Mr. and Mrs. Marks and daughter, of Moosomin, travelling with a team to Lethbridge, camped six miles west of that place and in the morning, while employed alone about the camp fire, Mrs. Marks' dress ignited and before assistance could arrive her clothes were in flames, her hands and feet burned to a crisp and half her body and lower limbs terribly injured. She was taken to Lethbridge by the first train and lies at the point of death. The skilled physician of the Galt Co. entertaining no hopes of her recovery.

A Warning.

The modes of death's approach are various, and statistics show conclusively that more persons die from diseases of the throat and lungs than any other. It is probable that everyone, without exception, receives vast numbers of tubercle germs into the system and when these germs fall upon suitable soil they start into life and develop, at first slowly and is shown by a slight tickling sensation in the throat and if allowed to continue their ravages they extend to the head, causing catarrh. Now all this is dangerous and if allowed to proceed will in time cause death. At the onset you must act with promptness; allowing a cold to go without attention is dangerous and may lose you your life. As soon as you feel that something is wrong with your throat, lungs or nostrils, obtain a bottle of Boschee's German Syrup. It will give you immediate relief.

I do not believe that Ayer's Sarsaparilla has an equal as a cure for Scrofulous Humors. It is pleasant to take, gives strength to the body, and produces a more permanent result than any medicine I ever used. —E. Haines, North Lindale, Ohio.

I have used Ayer's Sarsaparilla, in my family, for Scrofula, and know, if it is taken faithfully it will thoroughly eradicate this terrible disease. —W. F. Fowler, M.D., Greenville, Tenn.

For forty years I have suffered with Erysipelas. I have tried various remedies for my complaint, but found no relief until I commenced using Ayer's Sarsaparilla. After taking ten bottles of this medicine I am completely cured. —M. C. Amesbury, Rockport, Me.

I have suffered, for years, from Catarrh, which was so severe that it destroyed my appetite and weakened my system. After trying other remedies, without relief, I began to take Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and, in a few months, was cured.—Susan L. Cook, 909 Albany st., Boston, Mass.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla is superior to any blood purifier that I ever tried. I have taken it for Scrofula, Canker, and Salt-Rheum, and received much benefit from it. It is good, also, for a weak stomach.—Millie Jane Peirce, S. Brentford, Mass. tf

WIND GARDENS.

Midway between earth and sky,
There the wild wind gardens lie,
Tossing gardens, secret bowers,
Full of songs and full of flowers,
Wafting down to us below
Such a fragrance as we know
Never yet had lily or rose
That our fairest garden knows.

Oh, those gardens, dear and far,
Where the wild wind faries are!
Though we see not, we can hearken
To them when the spring skies darken,
Singing clearly, singing purely,
Songs of far off Elf land, surely,
And they pluck the wild wind posies,
Lilies, violets and roses.

CREMATIONS IN AMERICA.

Rapidly Coming into Practice in This Country and Europe.

The practice of cremation steadily continues to gain ground in the eastern as well as the western continent. Already it is common in Italy, France, Spain and the majority of the smaller foreign countries as well as the larger. A dozen or so crematories have been opened within the last year, and at least double that number are in process of construction.

In some European countries, Italy, for instance, there is scarcely a city without one of these societies. When a society is once formed, it is only a matter of time before a crematory is built.

This seems wonderful to those who realize how deep rooted was the prejudice against the system, and how radical was the change that the idea of cremation involved. Yet, despite its inauspicious beginning, the strong sentiment against it and the many obstacles in its path, the reform has already obtained a strong footing in this country and in the old world.

When the New York Crematory society was organized in 1881, there only were four crematories in existence, one at Washington, Pa., and three in Europe. In different parts of Europe today there are over twenty-two crematories. London, Paris, Copenhagen, Florence, Venice, Dresden, Brussels, Rome and many other smaller towns all boast of their crematories. Another country in which the form finds favor is Germany. During the last year over 25,000 signatures appeared on a petition laid before the reichsrag.

Public interest has long been awakened in France and England. There is about to be erected in France a handsome and commodious crematory, and an eminent physician in his lecture estimates that I will be able to consume about 5,000 bodies annually. This is about the average number of deaths in the hospitals of Paris during the year. The bill which provides for the cremation of the dead has already passed the chamber of deputies and is now before the senate, and there is no doubt but what it will become a law.

The movement has not gained much headway in England, on account of parliamentary opposition, strong religious or rather superstitious objections and the unfortunate incineration of Lady Dilke. A more favorable change has taken place lately, and the leaders of the reform, like Sir Henry Thompson and several other well known Englishmen, who are strong and enthusiastic supporters of cremation, think that it is only a matter of time when the reform will generally be adopted. Many people in this country who strongly object to cremation are suprised to see the headway the practice has gained here. They did not think it would be adopted on account of our having ample room for burying grounds and cemeteries.

At the present time there are about twenty societies in the United States, and all of them have put their principle into practice, and have erected large and spacious crematories. Besides that at Fresh Pond there are institutions at Pittsburg, Washington, Pa.; Buffalo, Cincinnati, Detroit and Lancaster. Others are being erected at Davenport, Ia.; Philadelphia, Baltimore and San Antonio. The Fresh Pond institution was opened for the public about two years ago. In that time there have been cremated over 150 bodies, and there are about a dozen applications on hand at the present time.—New York Press.

Confederate War Maps.

So great was the demand for maps occasioned by frequent changes in the situation of the armies, that it became impossible by the usual method of tracings to supply them. I conceived the plan of doing this work by photography, though expert photographers pronounced it impracticable, in fact impossible. To me it was an original idea, though I believe not a new one, but not in practical use. Traced copies were prepared on common tracing paper in very black India ink, and from these sharp negatives by sun printing were obtained, and from these negatives copies were multiplied by exposure to the sun in frames made for the purpose. The several sections, properly toned, were pasted together in their order, and formed the general map, or such portions of it as were desired; it being the policy, as a matter of prudence against capture, to furnish no one but the commanding general and corps commanders with the entire map of a given region.—Albert H. Campbell in The Century.

A Hawaiian Election.

The election season is a time of the greatest excitement among the natives. Each of the principal districts has its representatives in legislature; and when the decisive day approaches the Kanakas come tearing in to the polls from miles around, with loose rein and jangling spurs and flower garlanded horses. Processions are formed with impromtu brass bands, and a general commotion prevails. Any native may vote who has a knowledge of reading and writing or who has never served a term in prison. The different parties are regaled beforehand on gin or on coffee and doughnuts, according to their political platform; and a victory is celebrated by a grand luau, with attendant ceremonies. They are a warm hearted and childlike people, and their characteristics are an interesting study.—Bertha F. Herrick in Overland Monthly.

The Old Adam.

Our little 5-year-old Sheila is very fond of animal stories, and her "Papa Howard" has drawn freely upon natural history and his imagination in trying to show her how other little animals behaved and what happened to them when they were good or naughty. A few nights ago she checked him with: "Oh, I'm sick and tired of these good bunnies. Tell me about the bad ones. They have lots more fun!"—Idaho Democrat.

All the More.

Wife (pleadingly)—I'm afraid, George, you do not love me as well as you used to. Husband—Why? Wife—Because you always let me get up to light the fire. Husband—Nonsense, my love. Your getting up to light the fire makes me love you all the more.

THE DOBSON PROCESS.

The New Electric Amalgamation Process a Success.

The success of the new Dobson Electro-Mercurial process for treating refractory auriferous ores, says a Toronto paper, is now beyond a doubt, and the assays given by Professor Heys of the ore before and after treatment received by the machine show that no less than 54 per cent. of the gold and silver contained in the ore was extracted, while hitherto the economic saving did not amount to 10 per cent., and that was only saved by calcination at a cost of more than the gold taken out was worth. It is claimed by the process that refractory and base auriferous ores, whether concentrates, pyrites, tailings, titanic iron sands containing "float" or fine gold, can be treated effectually, satisfactorily and economically wherever every other known process has failed. The principle of the process, as seen at work at Adelaide street last week, is to desulphurize the sulphurets by currents of electricity in conjunction with an inexpensive and common chemical, and to force by the repelling current of electricity, the desulphurized ore, with its cleansed metallic contents, into a column of mercury, and finally deposit the metal, which passes under electrical anodes, upon a mercurial cathode.

By this process, which is conveyed by the use of a specially constructed machine, 34 feet long and 5 feet broad, having in connection a dynamo having power equal to eight arc lights, run at 1,500 revolutions per minute, each body of ore is subjected to the desulphurizing and depositing process on twenty distinct and separate occasions during its passage over a 26 foot table, no particle of ore possibly escaping an effective treatment; so that only a most inappreciable proportion of gold escapes.

The cost of treatment under the old process, by chlorination, was on an average about $16 per ton. Mr. Dobson's invention will treat ores for about $2.50 per ton.

It is well known to men interested in mining that there are many auriferous quartz lodes in Canada containing a very high assay of gold, but owing, in some cases, to the fineness of the metal, and in other cases to the presence of base and refractory minerals, such as sulphur, antimony, arsenic, titanium, etc., it has hitherto been found impossible to extract from the ore more than a small percentage, if any, of the gold.

The result of the trial which was made upon concentrates from the Pine Portage mines, last week, the property of Messrs. Dobie, Gordon & Warren, has been anxiously awaited by many gentlemen connected with gold mining. The gold contained in these tailings is locked up in sulphurets, and what free gold exists is in the form of "float" gold, so fine as to float upon water. The following is Professor Hey's analysis of the ore before treatment by this process, who was selected to test the ore, he being unbiased and a disinterested party:

116 King street west.

I have made an assay of the concentrates finding as follows:

	oz.	dwt.	grs.	Per ton value.
Gold	5	11	6	$124 92
Silver	14	4	14	14 25
Total value				$139 17

Signed, THOMAS HEYS.

Assay of ore after treatment:

116 King street west, July 6.

I have made a careful assay of the tailings received from you, finding as follows:

	oz.	dwt.	grs.	value.
Gold, 0.008 p. c.	2	6	16	$49 21
Silver, 0.002 p. c.	9	6	15	9 25
Total value				$58 56

Total gold obtained, 54.1 per cent; silver, 32½ per cent.

Signed, THOMAS HEYS.

Original gold in ore $114 92
Gold in ore after treatment 58 56

Gold saved by process.....$ 55 71—or 54.1 p. c.

In the face of this, the result should be the resurrection of many mines, and with this process in the foreground, coupled with judicious mining operations, there can be no doubt of the future gold mining in Canada.

TO THE INCREDULOUS.

There was Never the Man Who was Fooled or Humbugged--He Humbugs Himself.

The human race affords in itself a most singular study. There are among the many class of thinkers, those who repose too much confidence in others, too little confidence in themselves, or no confidence in anything. The man who knows it all himself, the man who thinks somebody else knows it all and the man who thinks he knows who knows it all. The egotist, the simpleton and the skeptic. Recognizing the fact that people require more substantial evidence than mere words and promises, Drs. Darrin resort to the most legitimate method of advertising themselves by advertising their cures. That those among the community may be afforded an opportunity of investigating before calling in person upon the doctors, the following testimonials are published bearing evidence of the doctors' ability and skill as well as success.

DEAFNESS CURED IN TEN MINUTES.

Mr. Editor—Dear Sir: I reside in North Yakima, W. T. I consulted Drs. Darrin for deafness. My left ear was totally deaf. With one operation with Drs. Darrin's electro-magnetic cure, of ten minutes, I was made to hear as well as ever in my life. Can be referred to as to the truth of my statement.

C. V. FOWLER.

AN OPEN LETTER.

SEATTLE, W. T.

DRS. DARRIN—Gentlemen: I now take the pleasure of writing you that after a full course of your electro-magnetic treatment I am entirely cured of a pain in my chest which has troubled me for over eight years. Having been under treatment by doctors of Liverpool, Glasgow, Calcutta and San Francisco, none of them did me any good until I came under your treatment, which I am sure has permanently cured me, for which, gentlemen, I beg to remain,

Yours gratefully,
WILLIAM LITTLE.

ASTHMA AND OPIUM HABIT CURED.

MR. EDITOR—Dear Sir: I have been troubled with asthma for the past thirteen months, so bad as not to be able to do a day's work, and have suffered "torments of the damned." The paroxysms were so severe that my life was many thought to be despaired of. I had tried everything, and a great many physicians. In order to get relief I had to resort to morphine, until I had contracted the habit. I put myself under their electro-magnetic treatment. Now, after several treatments, I am entirely cured of my asthma and the morphine habit, and I have no craving for the drug. I can be referred to at the McKenzie House, foot of Marion street, Seattle, W. T.

H. A. JOHNSON.

CURE OF CATARRH AND VARICOSE VEINS.

TO THE PUBLIC: For ten years I have been troubled with a very disagreeable catarrh and bronchitis. I finally got so bad that I had to give up my business of ranching and riding for my stock. The catarrh extended to my lungs and stomach. My physicians gave me up as incurable. Last October I came to Drs. Darrin, and now, after three months' treatment, I consider myself so far restored as to be able to do all my own work. Before treatment I had to give up horseback riding, and could not attend to my stock at all; now I can remain in the saddle all day without fatigue. My wife had also been troubled with dropsy, milk leg and varicose veins, so she could only walk with the greatest inconvenience, and it was painful to the touch, and finally broke out in a running sore. Drs. Darring sent her medicines, and to our glad joy, she is entirely cured.

Refer to me at Sprague, W. T.

FREDERICK MOHS.

The above gentleman, Mr. Mohs, owns a farm of 2700 acres and hundreds of cattle and horses, and these statements coming from a man of undoubted integrity, and whose reputation for veracity is above suspicion; must be admitted as positively true.

SCIATIC RHEUMATISM CURED.

MR. EDITOR—Dear Sir: For nearly a year I have been afflicted with sciatic rheumatism, and was so bad as to be unable to sit upon a chair or to get around, and suffered tortures indescribable. I came to the Drs. Darrin, Seattle, W. T., and went under their electro-magnetic treatment and home treatment. I now consider myself entirely cured. Can be referred to at Port Blakely, W. T.

S. F. HOSKINSON.

DEAFNESS AND DISCHARGING EARS CURED

TO THE PUBLIC: I have been troubled with deafness and a discharge of one ear for over twenty years, and have tried everything. I placed myself under the Drs. Darrin's electro-magnetic treatment and I am now cured of my long standing trouble. I cheerfully recommend the doctors to afflicted humanity. Can be referred to at Stuck Junction, W. T.

JOHN WOLFLIN.

OVERFLOWING TEARS CHECKED.

TO THE PUBLIC: For a number of years I have been troubled with overflowing of tears down my cheeks, and have been operated on a number of times by a physician without success. Called on the Drs. Darrin at the International Hotel, Cherry street, and they operated upon my eye, and I now feel great relief for the first time in fourteen years. I can be referred to at 1351 Railroad street, Tacoma, W. T.

MRS. A. J. QUENTAL.

A CERTIFIED CURE.

This is to certify that I have been troubled with weak eyes for over a year past, and with a constant pain over the eye and ball, and was almost blind at times. I went to Drs. Darrin and put myself under their electro-magnetic treatment, with the happiest results, as I consider myself cured. I can be gladly referred to at White River, W. T.

JOHN MULLEN.

RUNNERS FOR STEAMSHIPS.

Collaring People for a Small Commission. How Passengers Are Picked.

Back and forth before the offices of the big transatlantic steamship lines fronting on Bowling green and in that vicinity may, on almost any day, be observed certain men pacing the pavements with a hungry look in their eyes, eagerly scanning the face of every person who approaches. If that person happens to inspire in the minds of these watchers, from the fact of his looking at the office signs, from his appearance pronouncing him to be a stranger, or from any other outward indication, any remote hint that he might be desirous of purchasing a passage across the ocean, he is at once approached with offers to assist him in his search. The name of the port to which he wants to go being elicited, the "runners" will at once compete with each other for the honor of introducing him to the agent from whom he can obtain "the best and cheapest passage." The man is at once dragged off, perplexed, but somewhat tempted by the offer of a cheaper fare than that which he had been led to expect, to the steamship office where the "runner" who has him in charge can obtain the largest commission upon the purchase of his ticket.

"There isn't half as much money in this business now that there was a few years ago," said a veteran runner recently. "We used to get $8 commission on each ticket across. Now the rates are down to almost nothing, and the companies will allow us only from $3 to $5. Then when several fellows get around a man, of course the one who will offer the passenger the most reduction off his ticket gets him, but that reduction, of course, has to come out of our commission."

"Do you depend entirely upon chance in the passengers you catch?"

"Not altogether. Some of us who have made a business of the thing have agents of our own in other cities and out west, who advise us when a party is coming to New York to go across. Then we make it a point to meet the passengers and arrange with them to buy their tickets."

"How do you tell by the look of a man whether he may prove a customer?"

"It's easy enough," said the veteran, "to spot a stranger, and easier still to tell whether he is German, Swedish or Irish. Then if you can speak to him in his own language the probability is that you are all right. If not, it's easy enough to back out. Sometimes I've spoken to a man entirely on 'spec,' and struck a first class passenger. Of course, the higher grade passenger you get, the more commission there is off his ticket for you."

A former runner, who is now engaged in other business, was asked if the steamship companies gave special commissions to favored men.

"Oh, no," said he, "any steamship company will give you a commission if you take them a passenger, it makes hardly any difference who you are. I sometimes earn a few dollars that way yet, and frequently oblige a friend by obtaining a ticket for him at the discount of my commission. Last summer when I made a trip across myself, I got another friend to buy my ticket and saved $3 on it."

Another ex-runner said that there were very few men who made a permanent business of picking up passengers now. Like himself, a good many were on the lookout for commissions when travel was brisk, as in the summer season, or when they hadn't anything else to do. But the commissions were small now, the competition was keen, and those who had made a business of it had mostly succeeded in establishing little offices of their own.—New York Commercial Advertiser.

Ran Away.

On the road between Wellington and Nanaimo, on Sunday, a team of horses met with a serious accident. The horses becoming unmanageable they ran away, strewing the road with fragments of wagon and occupants. One of the horses received a severe wound in the flank, from a snap, fifteen inches in length and three inches wide. Several Wellington and Nanaimo teachers were badly shaken up, but no one was seriously injured.

Another Buggy Collision.

While a lady and her young daughter were driving slowly down the hill at Quadra street near the old church yard, they came into collision with a vehicle driven by Mr. Field. Evidently the horses were of the stamp described by Rev. Mr. Starr, for they stood quietly after first shock. The result was a few straps broken and a little fright to the fair teamster. Moral—Ladies, don't read your love letters while driving through the streets.

Laid at Rest.

The mortal remains of the late Augustus C. Graves were laid at rest in Ross Bay Cemetery on Sunday afternoon. The funeral was attended by Victoria-Columbia Lodge, A. F. & A. The following gentlemen were pall bearers: Jos. Loewen, J. Nicholson, H. Flint, N. McCahill, A. McDonald and R. Carter.

British Columbia Pine.

Canadian Lumberman: The lumbermen of old Canada have begun to turn their attention to the pine on the other side of she Rocky Mountains. More than one of them is likely to be operating on the Pacific coast. As to the quantity and excellence of the pine and other wood there is no doubt, and the only question would be as to the market if the output were greatly augmented. There seems, however, every likelihood of rapidly increasing settlement on the great prairies and this must bring a demand for lumber in that direction. The markets in Australia also should be capable of extensive development, for they have little but hard wood and their requirements are large. British Columbia should certainly be able to compare with Melbourne, Sydney and Adelaide if some enterprise were shown in pushing the trade which has its peculiarities.

Bishop Lemmens.

On Sunday morning Rev. Father Van Nevel announced in the R. C. pro-Cathedral that the Papal Bulls had been received by Bishop Lemmens. The consecration of the much respected prelate will take place at an early date. A number of bishops will be present, including Archbishop Gross of Oregon. Father Van Nevel said the newly appointed Bishop was the unanimous choice of the clergy of the diocese, and it was the earnest desire of the late lamented Archbishop that Bishop Lemmens should be his successor. He was sure that the appointment would meet with the approval of every member of the congregation, and the speaker entreated his hearers to pray that God's blessing might rest on their new shepherd. Our Roman Catholic citizens are to be congratulated on the choice made by the Vatican, and it is to be hoped that Bishop Lemmens will be long spared to preside over the diocese of Vancouver Island.

A Dark Secret.

This famous melodrama, which Lewis Morrison presents at the Victoria theatre on Monday and Tuesday nights possesses at least the merit of genuine originality, and nothing that has been seen on the American stage can approach it for realism. The two great scenes of the play (and indeed they are the attraction) are the Henley regetta course and the old church at Henley, England. Both localities being on the river Thames, this historic stream is shown to the audience through the medium of an immense body of real water, covering the stage to the extent of 3000 feet and containing 22,500 gallons. On the surface of this river are floated genuine steamboats, pleasure boats, racing shells, water fowl, etc., and the living exemplification of the rescue of a drowning woman is an unusually exciting reproduction. The company presenting "A Dark Secret" is the same that had so successful a run at the California theatre, San Francisco, and includes besides Mr. Morrison, Misses Annie Meyor, Rosabel Morrison, Florence Roberts, Messrs. Arthur Beaucaire, Albert Hosmer, Scott Cooper, Robert C. Vernon, James E. Fox, Frederick Belasco and John C. Miller.

OUR TOWN MAJOR.

The City's Saturday—Rev. Mr. Starr on Sabbath Desecration, Etc.

How quiet and orderly the crowd that throng our streets on Saturday evenings. With all temptations, Victoria has every cause to congratulate itself on its crowd. What a pity that, to many of them, the opportunity and means of rational enjoyment or intellectual improvement is as it were denied. We are told that in the vaults of the city hall there are some 5000 volumes of books lying moulding and may be forming food for the rats and mice, and yet the city of Victoria is without a public library. What care one-half of us how the other half lives; it is root, hog, or die. Many say, "Oh, if there was a public library no body would go to it." Now, who is Mr. Nobody? Does he wear an eyeglass or plug hat? Establish your library, make it attractive, have your lecture room, where good lectures may be heard from time to time; have temperance refreshments supplied within reach; innocent games, etc. Only just try this, and you'll find that it will take. If you want a model, some of you go over to Vancouver and take a look at the public reading room and library. Of course Vancouver is young, yet you need not be ashamed to ask of it the right road to travel.

One Sunday is so much like another in Victoria that there remains little to tell of them. There was the usual people at church—no deviation in this—the usual crowd at Campbell's corner—the visitors to the park, and those to Ross Bay. The Arm, Marshall's and Victoria Gardens had their usual crowd. The dust was everywhere, the church bells rang, the billiard balls rattled and so did the cool ice in the palsied hands of the bar tender. The police were invisible. In fact there was no difference from any other Sunday.

Yes, The Major thought he would change the monotony of this Sunday existence, having tired of looking at the same bonnet, the same costume—not the female figure, mind; he could never tire of that—in front of him at church—he was going to say the same sermon also. However, he thought he would listen for once in a while to the Rev. Mr. Starr. The subject of the sermon was good; the choir's wide reputation; the acknowledged plentitude and quality of the Pandora street church fair devotees, apart from anything else, was a great, nay, the greatest, inducement. This commodious sacred edifice was crowded. The Major was glad to observe that there is a church where the attendance of worshippers is not confined to women and children. The fine organ was pealing forth some grand symphony as we entered. Shortly after the services opened with the usual hymn, well rendered by the efficient choir, and the other preliminaries of the Methodist service. When the preacher, the Rev. Mr. Starr, took the third commandment as his text (Exd. 20.) The reverend gentleman did not appear limp in any way, and seemed to have plenty of backbone in him; nor did he lop or loll on one side that The Major could see. He may, however, have had same setting up drill since last before the C. J. There is one thing, the Rev. Mr. Starr in his discourse did every credit to his wide reputation. He said: The observance of the Sabbath was deeply impressed on the Israelites. Henry George had said that Moses, by proclaiming the seventh day of rest on Mount Sinai, had become the first Knight of Labor and champion of the rights of the workingman. He, the preacher, would make an appeal to the God-fearing of Victoria. We had druggists, barbers, livery stable keepers, steamboats, railways, hotel keepers, barkeepers, washermen, and horses; and all compelled to break the law of God. Beginning at the lowest rung of the ladder, the horses, who had as much right, as one of God's creatures, to the protection of the Divine law as we had. How could people expect to have a horse, spirited, active and lively working him seven days a week? No wonder the horses of Victoria, especially the livery ones, were broken down, spavined hacks. Driving a horse for pleasure was every bit as bad in the sight of God as employing him at ordinary work. By hiring a livery horse, on Sunday we not only deprive the animal of his rest but also the man that tends him. Even horses can't stand having no Sabbath, neither can man. Charles Bianconi, the great Irish mail coach and car proprietor of 40 years ago, declared and boasted that on no account did he allow a horse of his, and he employed 14,000, to be worked on Sunday! By so doing he saved 12 per cent. And Charles Bianconi was only a poor Italian organ grinder who had by industry raised himself to opulence and wealth! The way the Sabbath was observed in Victoria was a disgrace to any Christian community. Open bars, billiard rooms, beer gardens, and the like, could be found in no other city in Canada on the Sabbath Day! Such a state of things was a disgrace to the Provincial and civic laws. People will say, "Oh, we're no worse than 'Frisco!" Well, they might compare themselves to something decent anyway. New York was acknowledged to be a Sabbath desecrating city, still out of its population of one and a half millions only 75,000 visited its beer gardens, while 800,000 attended church on the Sabbath. Now let Victoria compare itself with Toronto. That's something decent. In no place in the world, not even in Edinboro,' was the Sabbath so well observed as in Toronto. Livery stables, bars, barber shops, druggists, and even the telegraph clerks, enjoyed their Sabbath there. There were no newspapers published on Sunday. In Germany Sabbath desecration was found to be a yoke on the working man. Petitions had been sent to the Imperial Parliament praying for the enactment of laws for the due observance of the Sabbath. It was said that it was the workingmen who desired the providing of Sunday amusements and attractions. Not a bit of it. These attractions were got up to catch the workingman's pay. The workingmen's institutes of England, when consulted on the Sunday closing, 65 societies voted against and 2,212 for it! In England the workingman had said "no." In New York he has said no! In Philadelphia he said no! In Chicago, no! and he must say no! here in Victoria against Sabbath desecration! In those places he said no! at the polls. The same must be said in Victoria. The way the Sabbath was observed in Victoria was an insult to "the strangers within our gates." Strangers had told him that they would not come to live in Victoria solely on account of the temptations open to their families. Victoria was known as the great Sabbath breaking city, and when east a short time ago friends said they wondered that he ever went back again. Many had said here, "Oh! Mr. Starr, why he's the man that's down on the town." But if he was only "down on the town" for the breaking of the laws of God, and if preaching against the sins and vices of Victoria was "down on the town" well be supposed he must be "down on it." With an earnest appeal to the feelings of the people, the gifted preacher brought his interesting discourse to a close. During the delivery marks of approbation were evinced by the congregation, and many were the occasions of merriment at the similies and remarks of the preacher. After a well rendered duet by two young ladies, the collection was taken up, when the reverend gentleman, noticing a number of C Battery present, made a few feeling remarks on the occasion and cause of their hurried departure to the north. The missionaries had warned the authorities of the pending troubles, and now the powers that be would reap the fruits of neglect. Wishing the men of C Battery God speed, the interesting services were brought to a close by the pronouncing of the benediction. There's much to be admired in Mr. Starr's style of preaching. Something of Spurgeon and his tabernacle about the church and preacher.

C Battery march off to-day for embarkation on board H. M. S. Caroline at Esquimalt. The men presented a fine serviceable appearance. The further military remarks will have to be deferred on account of space, when the whole subject will be gone into by

THE TOWN MAJOR.

Newspaper Changed Hands.

The Victoria Standard has been sold to Messrs. Dunsmuir, DeCosmos, and two or three others, and will commence its new existence on the 1st of August next. It will be a pro government paper.—Inland Sentinel. What a combination that would be!

Business in Canada.

From Dunn, Wiman & Co.'s circular last week, the following notes with regard to business in Canada are extracted:

Montreal—In Quebec province crops are promising well at date, but general lines of merchandise, find trade close, and the unsatisfactory state of country payments experienced last fall continues into this year. Importations have been fully up to what the situation will bear.

Toronto—Trade in this section for the past six months has not been satisfactory. The "old, old tale" of over importation and over production, has again to be repeated, and while retail stocks have been materially reduced, it will take some time for the country to absorb the goods now on hand. Collections have not been up to the mark, though the past month has shown an improvement in most lines.

London—Trade for the past 12 months in this district in all lines of goods has been dull, and indications do not point out to any marked improvement.

St. John, N. B.—In New Brunswick an improvement in business is reported.

Halifax, N. S.—The condition of business in the district, at present time, is, speaking generally fairly prosperous.

Winnipeg—Business generally steady although not brisk. Harvest outlook splendid.

Victoria, B. C.—Trade in this province quiet the past six months, but is generally regarded in a fairly healthy state, and merchants are reported as making slow but steady progress.

A Breakfast in China.

A young American lady, writing from Shanghai, China, says: "What wouldn't I give for a good American breakfast of steak, hot rolls, coffee, etc. Breakfast in this part of the world is altogether a different affair. First they bring you eggs of some sort and sherry. Then follow three courses, such as pigs' feet, frogs' legs smothered in sauce and served with claret; then coffee. When the sight of these things has taken away your appetite, there appears a tiny little chop in a huge paper frill, looking, oh, so sad and lonely you could weep for it. Then come queer cheeses of different kinds, cakes and sweet crackers, fruit and cognac and a tiny cup of tea to finish with. They have only one way to cook potatoes here—that is, to boil them—and hot muffins, fresh toast and broiled steak are unknown.—Chicago News.

Indians Still in Heathenism.

Out of 40,000 Sioux Indians there are 25,000 still in heathenism. There are sixty-six tribes on the western prairies for whom nothing is yet done. There are 40,000 "Indians of school age," but when every school is packed to its utmost only 12,000 can be accommodated. This includes government schools, Roman Catholic schools and all; so that those under mission teachers would be far fewer number than 12,000.—Public Opinion.

Musquitoes in Mexico.

The town of Apam, Mexico, has recently been invaded by musquitoes. A local paper in making this announcement says that these pests were imported from Vera Cruz in a cargo of fruit. There were no musquitoes in Mexico until 1885, but since then they have swarmed in almost every part of the country, even during the coldest months.—Chicago News.

House Building in Earthquake Countries.

In choosing a site for a house in an earthquake country, find out by the experience of others the localities which are least disturbed, and build there. Sometimes these localities will be upon hills, and at other times in valleys and on the plains. A wide open plain is less likely to be disturbed than a position on a hill, especially on the edge of a hill.

Avoid building on loose materials which rest on hard strata beneath. Place foundations on the hard rock and leave a pit or trench all round them up to the surface of the ground.

If earthquakes in a region come always from one direction, build the house so that the blank walls are parallel to this direction, and so that the walls with many openings in them—as windows and doors—are at right angles to such direction.

Small structures can be supported on nests of spherical balls laid between two flat iron plates. Such houses are much less shaken than the ordinary kind. It is advisable that brick chimneys to wooden houses should be built so that the chimney is not bound closely to the wooden structure, but is detached from it in such a way as to allow it to have its own period of vibration without interfering with that of the house.—Edward S. Holden in Overland Monthly.

The Demand for Rubbers.

There has been a wonderful increase of late years in the demand for rubbers, and they have almost supplanted the heavy overshoe so popular a few seasons ago. Lately the sales of rubbers have almost doubled, and the demand has at times been almost equal to the supply. The light rubber serves the purpose of warmth and keeps the water out, and is, therefore, of double advantage and safer than the heavy overshoe, as one is less liable to colds if by some mischance he should forget to put them on. There is a peculiarity about the styles worn. Elderly people wish a heavy, full rubber, and want them large, so that they can easily be put on and taken off. The middle aged person wants a full rubber, but as light as possible and a perfect fit. The young man or miss wants a tip that is a half rubber, just covering the heel and part of the toe, exposing most of the shoe. They must fit like a glove, too. To one who has had experience in this line of business it is easy to "size up" a customer, and one who understands the trade rarely loses much time in selling a pair of rubbers.—Dealer in Globe-Democrat.

Runaway.

Mr. W. Heathorn's horse smashed a buggy and ran away this afternoon with the shafts. The animal ran amongst the lumber near Muirhead & Mann's mill and was caught. Two young men in a buggy, returning from Esquimalt narrowly escaped injury at the corner, near Mr. Mann's store. The horse was making for Mr. Heathorn's residence and luckily turned into the lumber yard. Had the animal crossed the bridge he would have met a number of carriages containing ladies and children returning from Esquimalt and a serious accident would mostly likely have occurred.

THE DEFENCE OF ESQUIMALT.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE TIMES:

SIR,—If I understand the matter rightly the position is this Great Britain agrees to fortify and supply the armament, and desires Canada to provide the garrison. Canada hesitates because she considers the defence of Esquimalt a matter of imperial policy, rather than of colonial concern. Fortunately all colonies seem now to realize that, sharing the influence and protection of a common flag, they ought to contribute to imperial defence, recognizing this principle, and the fact that Esquimalt is a strategic point of the first importance, should our statesmen object to share the burden of defence on the ground that Canadian interests are, as yet, very unimportant in this Province. I think not. The question presents itself to my mind as one not of sentiment only, but of what is fair and right on the part of five millions of people, who are not the less citizens of the empire because they reside in Canada. In the face of the fact that the Dominion Government assisted a few Montreal merchants, of limited means, to successfully carry out that stupendous undertaking, the Canadian Pacific Railway, an undertaking of at least equal importance to the Empire as to Canada, I cannot understand why the same Government should now shrink from assisting the Imperial Government in the work of rendering Esquimalt impregnable.

Soldiers' Rations.

Messrs. Angus & Gordan furnished the supplies for the Battery which left for Skeena this afternoon. A day's rations for each man was placed in a sack and will be handed out every morning. Supplies for a campaign of two months duration was put up by the firm in a short time. Mr. S. E. King furnished 900 loaves of bread.

—The Royal Hospital steward desires to thank Mrs. Adams for books and papers and bottles of jam; also Mr. R. T. Williams for books and papers. Old linen, etc., is much needed and the management would be thankful for any donations of that nature.
